WINTER BLAST ON HARBOR

These photos are taken especially to please our Mattapoisett readers who are spending this season in the Florida sun. It's a long time in coming but what a difference a week makes in the winter season. Our cover and the page 6 photo were taken at Mattapoisett Boatyard in a stiff, frigid wind that lifts the covers of the boats and gathers the ice from a brief harbor freeze. The photo above was a shot at the Ned's Point Beach looking toward Pico Beach where all the rocks are

Historic District Vote Recount

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
FEBRUARY 7, 1989-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Mr. Robert M. Coquillette, Chairman of the Mattapoisett Harbor Historic District Committee, gave a report to the Board of Selectmen last Tuesday and to about 25 interested citizens on the final tally from homeowners in the district on whether there are enough favorable votes to take the proposed by-law to town meeting.

The vote as of February 3rd was 108 for and 93 against a historic district in the village. Mr. Coquillette said although an earlier vote went the other way, the final votes had not been counted including those that came in by proxy.

Selectmen Chairman William F. Hubbard, however, said he was not satisfied with the way in which the final count was obtained.

He said there seemed to be confusion when the deadline date for ballots to be sent in was changed from January 31, announced at the first hearing on January 23, to February 3rd by the committee at the second hearing on Thursday, January 26th.

Mr. Coquillette responded, saying, "It's all right with me if you want to take another vote, but our committee is through with its duties and I don't feel we should have to do another count. We extended the deadline to give more people a chance to vote. We were not under any legislative necessity to hold those hearings; they were simply to get the concerns and views of property owners within the district, both those who live there and those who own property but do not reside there, before the annual May town meeting. Personally, I feel people came to those meetings with their minds made up," he added.

Chairman Hubbard said he would be willing to have the Selectmen's office mail out ballots to all 300 homeowners. "I for one want to see the vote taken again to clear up any confusion."

Peter Perkins, who owns property in the district, asked if comments pro and con could be placed on the ballot so that the people who didn't get to the meetings would know the reasons for and against.

Steven Clapp, who also owns a house in the district, said to be fair, "We should hear from all the people who own property in the district (300) to know how they feel. I feel uncomfortable with the low vote, 108 to 93, for a total of 201 votes, about 100 less than all the owners," he said.

Several members of the audience asked if a list of homeowners could be made available to those who would like to send them a pro or con opinion. Chairman Hubbard said the list will be available at the Selectmen's office.

Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis remarked the article would seek a zoning change and has to go before the Planning Board for a hearing before going to town meeting; and the article for a by-law change must pass on a 2/3 vote. "We have to have time to advertise a hearing, then the count must be resolved by March 1st."

Chairman Hubbard recommended having the hearings before the ballots are tallied. Then, if the vote is negative, the article can be removed from the warrant; however, if the vote is favorable, the hearings would have been held.

After the audience left, Selectman Bernard F. Talty mentioned that the town has hired Planner Consultant Burk Ketcham, who is making a land use plan for the town and perhaps he could look at the proposed by-law.

Mr. Coquillette said the Massachusetts Historic District Commission has looked at the by-law and they are the best. "We have to follow procedures of law and have to have a reason for the boundaries we select. Mr. Ketcham can review the by-law but he would have to do all the background work again."

Mrs. Constance Keavy, a district committee member, commented on the small number of people who attended the first session they had to introduce the proposal - now they are coming out of the woodwork. "They are questioning our integrity and this bothers me. We are all volunteers doing this and have spent a lot of time to treat everyone fairly."

Selectmen agreed to mail out ballots to everyone on the list who owns property in the district, whether they live in the houses or live elsewhere. There is one vote for each piece of property.

The Town Clerk said on Friday that ballots have been mailed to all district property owners.

In other business, Selectmen:

AGREED TO officially endorse the application of Pleasant Street Development Corporation of New Bedford to the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency and the Office of Economic Community Development for a new revised plan for "The Beacon at Mattapoisett", to include 31 single family houses - 9 affordable, with one of the nine going to the Mattapoisett Housing Authority. The remaining 22 houses will be sold at market value. The site is located off Park Street.

At the January 31st Selectmen's meeting, Selectmen refused to sign the endorsement before the developers received approval from the Conservation Commission for the revised wetland delineation for 33 houses. The developers proceeded to meet with the Conservation Commission and reached a joint decision to use the original wetland delineation and revise the lots for 31 houses. A suggestion of Pleasant Street Developers to pay for another wetland determination by Gulf of Maine researchers was shelved after the new decision was reached.

Mr. Paul Cusson, President of Pleasant Street Development Corporation, said the big difference is primarily the area to the west of the access road. It is important to note the house styles described on the plan are "our best estimates". The exact style will be determined by the market whether they will be ranch style or Cape Cod cottage style.

Selectman Talty, who represents the Selectmen on the Mattapoisett Housing Partnership Committee, said, "We've come a long way since the start of negotiations. We thank Mr. Harvey Blanchette, Chairman of the HOP Committee, for his many long hours of work to reach this stage. Mr. Cusson has complied with all our recommendations."

Resolutions recommended by Mr. Cusson were reviewed at the meeting by Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming and were scheduled to be finalized and signed last Wednesday (February 8). The first will have Selectmen endorse "The Beacon" plan on 16.7 acres off Park Street, the plan approved by the Conservation Commission and the HOP Committee. The second will send official written community endorsement to the state in support of the application for affordable housing.

Selectman John N. DeCosta expressed the Board's thanks to the HOP Committee, especially Harvey Blanchette, its chairman; William H. Matthews, Planning Board chairman and member of the HOP Committee; Selectman Talty, the Board's representative; and Mr. Cusson for his cooperation on this development plan's progress.

There were five Park Street neighbors attending to hear the final plan and the Board's decision to approve the 21 houses. Selectman DeCosta also thanked the people on Park Street who helped to work this all out.

Mr. Cusson said he now has to go to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a Comprehensive Permit with the final plan. On this matter, Selectmen voted not to waive the town permit fees the development company at the January 31 meeting had requested. At that time Selectman Talty estimated fees for building, wiring and plumbing would come to $8,000.

Selectmen received a letter from Building Inspector Andrew J. Bobola who said

"My thoughts on affordable housing have not changed, and I feel that it is needed in Mattapoisett, but the idea of not charging permit fees for the developers' market units, sold at fair market rates, in my opinion should be charged all applicable fees."

Wood, Board of Health Agent, that a letter has been sent to the owner of the Mattapoisett Diner, regarding an inspection which showed raw sewage running on the ground in the rear of the building - a violation of the Sanitary Code. MET WITH Mrs. Eleanor Lynch, Chairman of the Council on Aging, to discuss the council's 1990 budget. She noted, "We've been frugal, and have cut back $570. on our budget requests. We've had to increase some money for the Nutrition Program; however, we've decreased the fuel for the van $1,000 because we are now purchasing the gas through the Highway Department's town barn and not on the open market. We have two minor problems; the first is we must find a place to garage the van and secondly, there is no way we can get a new van this year with the state budget the way it is," she said.

WHAT IS A CAMERA STORE?

To most people..... too many, really, a camera store is a place to buy film and have film developed and we are certainly proud of our service in that area, what with same day processing and same day enlargements, but we like to think we can be MORE than just that.

We like our people to take GOOD pictures and we stand ready, every day, to offer help. Don't be "one of those" who has a picture-taking problem and is too proud to ask for help.

We're your ONE-STOP camera headquarters and, while we do love to sell things to help pay the rent, what we like most of all is to talk photography with anyone who shares a common interest, so bring us your film, but ALSO, bring us your questions. We'll do our best to help.

It is the belief of the Association that principals "play an active role in displaying leadership qualities to their students and in the advancement of student council efforts". With this in mind the Association dedicated January 24, 1989 as Principals' Day in the Commonwealth.

Members of the ORR Student Council Executive Board presented Principal Donald H. Murphy with a Certificate of Honor from the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils. Dr. Murphy has been principal of Old Rochester Regional High School since 1984. The certificate, signed by the president of MASC, Student Council Advisor, Ron Normand, and Student Council President, Marissa Harris, recognizes the principal's "outstanding dedication and support of Student Council activities".

Growth Management Committee

by CONSTANCE KEAVY

The Mattapoisett Growth Management Committee met on Thursday, February 2nd, at 7:30 p.m. at Village Court.

Chairman Peter Kortright introduced Dr. Manuel Rosenfield, Chairman of the Old Rochester Regional District School Committee, the main speaker of the evening.

Dr. Rosenfield brought the M.G.M.C. up-to-date on the status of Old Rochester Regional High School. He pointed out that several years ago an advisory committee was formed, made up of the Selectmen, Finance Committee and Elementary School Committee members of the three towns in the district. The purpose of this committee was to come up with a plan to bring O.R.R.H.S. "up to par" for the next decade and into the twenty-first century. O.R.R. is an aging building in a crisis state. With these facts in mind, the advisory committee contracted the Preservation Partnership of New Bedford, an architectural firm whose specialty is renovating old buildings. Dr. Rosenfield presented a slide show of the present building conditions and the proposed renovations.

Specific renovations include:

1) The present library will move from the second floor to the first floor where the floor space will be expanded (using the existing courtyard). This library center will become a high tech media center with tight security to protect the equipment. Because we are in an electronic age, air conditioning is necessary if the computers and other equipment are to operate correctly.

2) The kitchen needs to be upgraded and better equipment is needed for new menus.

3) The nurse's office and the guidance offices need more space to serve the student population of approximately 600 students, with more students coming from the junior high.

4) The superintendent's office will occupy the former library site on the second floor. The administrative offices need more conference and storage space.

5) Asbestos removal is planned from all affected areas at once.

6) Boilers need replacing and a new burner system is a must.

7) Low sodium lighting is planned throughout the plant.

8) Handicapped access to building must be improved. Time brings new insights and new needs. In 1960 there existed no handicap codes. Now we must comply. The washrooms are not suitable for handicap use, nor is the shop area.

This is a five year plan to upgrade and modernize the plant. Construction will take place during holiday periods to minimize educational disruption and schedules. All code violations will be corrected, beginning immediately with asbestos removal.

Approximately $10 million will be needed for code compliance and enlargement purposes. This will be spread out over a five-year period between the three member towns.

In the past, the State has funded 68% of this kind of reconstruction. With the current state fiscal problems, it's difficult to predict what aid, if any, the state can provide.

The educational needs of the students must take priority over athletics at this point. Two additional classrooms will be added to the A wing in anticipation of increased enrollment. The advisory committee acknowledges that the athletic fields should be upgraded and enlarged, but education is the first priority.

The architect, Mr. Maxwell Ferro, has included a maintenance plan in his reconstruction. The school will be maintained on a regular schedule and, in the words of the committee, "Pride will return to O.R.R."

The M.G.M.C. expressed its thanks to Dr. Rosenfield for his thoughtful and informative slide and discussion session. The committee felt many questions were answered.

The next meeting of the M.G.M.C. will be held on Thursday, March 2nd, at 7:30 p.m. at Village Court.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The members of the Old Colony Chapter of the National Honor Society extend their sincere appreciation to the many residents of the community who attended their recent Spaghetti Supper.

The event was a tremendous fund raising success and will assist the Honor Society in future educational activities.

Our success was a result of the generosity of the residents of Acushnet, Carver, Mattapoisett, and Rochester who attended and shared in the spirit of our Italian night.

We also wish to publicly thank Kraft/ S.S. Pierce, Ocean Spray, and Country Charm Flower Shoppe for their generous donations.

We sincerely appreciate everyone's support.

Open Letter to Selectmen

I was prompted to write a letter to the Selectmen of this town after reading the Standard-Times article concerning the handling of the historic district vote. I salute Bob Coquillette and his committee for the endless hours that they have given this project. To ask the committee members to have the designated historic area homeowners vote again implies a mishandling, and reeks of political maneuvering and loopholing on the part of those against a historic district. One has to wonder if the vote had been against the district if another election would have to be held.

Having lived in town for almost 16 years it is indeed disheartening that more people are not willing to insure the integrity of the village of Mattapoisett for future generations. It is naive to think that Mattapoisett will look as it does without some type of preservation.

However small, a majority of people have spoken in favor of a designated historic district and the Selectmen of this town are failing to listen, and so will we go for two out of three if the vote changes or only until those against the historic district win?

who has taken her knowledge and understanding of the creative process and translated it into a tool to assist others to reach into a deeper part of themselves and express through their hands "what they don't think they know about themselves". The form is called art therapy and Ms. Fiering is as gentle and coaxing as a person can be. She "provides people with the exercises and gives them a chance to experience and learn about themselves".

Ms. Fiering says that drawing originates from a different part of the brain and bypasses the linear, rational part. "The drawings that are done are more like dreams, but you have easier access to them", according to Fiering. She believes that art is "an expression of our deepest meanings and that everything in the painting/drawing means something". Gently, Fiering assists people to decipher the relationship between what they have composed on paper and how they feel about their relationships, themselves, and the world they live in.

school vacation on February 22 and 23. Children and parents alike will enjoy their free visit to the newly remodeled planetarium. "They'll learn about stars and planets and begin to understand a world millions of miles away from us", said David Owen, planetarium show director and a member of the BCC science department.

"Most people are fascinated with the stars and the heavens. Optical illusions, like how small stars appear to be, and the countless years it has taken for light to reach us, are only a few of the wonders our visitors will learn about", said Jim Pelletier, co-director of the planetarium shows and BCC professor of chemistry. "Visitors will have their curiosity and imagination piqued. School vacation at BCC could become a 'trip' to the Milky Way."

The open house takes place at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, February 22nd, and at 1 p.m. on Thursday, February 23rd. Both shows will last about an hour. Although the show is free, pre-registration is necessary due to a limited amount of space. Small and large groups and organizations can also call for private showings.

To reserve a space for the open house or to schedule a private showing for a group call the College at 678-2811, ext. 207.

WALLPAPERS HANG FAMOUSLY

A rare wallpaper, made in New Bedford around 1840, and found in the 1821 Benjamin Rodman House, 50 North Second Street, is gaining some attention in national preservation circles.

The five side papers and four borders, owned by The New Bedford Glass Museum, were used in the Benjamin Rodman House between around 1840 and 1880. They range from a very early gold and white "parlor paper", circa 1840, and its rare matching border, to various Japonisme and Victorian revival designs, produced in the 1870s. The papers, found in various stages of deterioration on the site, were reproduced in 1985 under funding provided by the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

Because of its rarity and spectacular beauty, the earliest paper has been in increasing demand for use in period houses throughout America. The "Greek Revival" side paper and border now hangs in the General U.S. Grant House, Medina, Illinois; Harvard University's 8 Prescott Street; the Washburn House, Middleboro, MA.; and the Nathaniel Allen House, West Newton, MA.

Few houses in America can boast the number of original papers extant in the Benjamin Rodman House, or offer the range of authentic, documented papers available commercially by special order. In recognition of this heritage, the Rodman House was placed on Massachusetts' distinguished

Storyteller Len Cabral

David Cabral is a 13 year old 6th grader from Rochester. He attends the Rochester Memorial School and he maintains a B average in his studies. In addition to being the captain and coach of the "Lakers" basketball team at school, David is an altar boy at the St. Rose of Lima Church in Rochester.

Adding to David's busy schedule is his participation in the Mariners Youth Soccer League. This activity may be David's most enjoyable one; and the subject of David's request.

John Smith, the former new England Patriots Football Team placekicker, has a soccer tour program. The soccer schools are held in Norton, Massachusetts and London, England. David hopes he can go to the soccer school in England in August 1989.

David's parents, Richard and Sandra Cabral, are trying to support David's dream by putting on a benefit. The funds will go towards David's trip to England in August of 1989.

David's cousin, Len Cabral, is an international storyteller. He has performed in Canada, throughout the United States, and at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. Len Cabral recently performed in the Wareham and Rochester school systems, as well as the Wareham Public Library to enthusiastic audiences both young and old.

Len has offered to help David by performing at the Old Rochester Regional educational experience to over 3450 students from kindergarten to grade 7 in southeastern Massachusetts. Featuring a seven-foot-long fabric flounder, the program allows students to unzip the belly and "dissect" the inside organs attached by velcro to learn about the anatomy of this popular local fish. Like an enormous puzzle, the class then reassembles the fish for a vivid lesson on how form follows function.

Another goal of the Traveling Laboratory Program is to aid students in developing a greater understanding of fundamental scientific principles while learning about the marine environment. For older students the Marine Mammals component features a life-sized (17-foot-long) wooden model of a pilot whale called Delphi the Whale. The students use their problem solving skills and work in groups to assemble out of a pile of parts the ribs, flippers and vertebrae for a dynamic and unique look at the common whale we see in local waters.

Now, after their beginning twenty years ago, Mummenschanz is back with a program of those very special works that audiences have enjoyed over the years. The creators - Andres Bossard, Floriana Frassetto and Bernie Schurch - want to share with their audience the skits that after all these years are still very close to them. Through their extraordinary wrappings and unique combination of masks and movement, they will reveal a fantastic world filled with delightful and amusing characters that offers a tremendous journey into the imagination.

The name, Mummenschanz, is derived from the German "mummen", meaning game or play, and "schanz", meaning choice. Hailing back to medieval times when players of games of chance wore masks to hide their facial expressions, the creators have based their technique upon the ancient Swiss theater tradition of the masks.

Mr. Bossard, one of the creators, said, "We are a 'mask' company although we use mime techniques. Mask theater is more visual than mime because you don't have to guess what the actor is doing." He added, "Don't forget with masks there

Mr. Bossard and Mr. Schurch first worked together at Jacques Lecoq's in Paris where they both were studying pantomime. In 1969 they gave their first show as "Verlor and Vorher", which later became "Games of Masks and Fools". After several more changes, the show became the Mummenschanz in 1972. Soon after, Ms. Frassetto joined the company when she saw them perform in a Rome theater. In Rome she had studied at the Theater Academy with Alessandro Fresen, and at the Studio of Swiss Roy Bosier. As a member of Mummenschanz, she also creates the ensemble's masks and costumes.

The winning students were awarded either a Gold Key or an Honorable Mention for artistic achievement in 14 categories including: watercolors, pastels, graphic design, photography, sculpture and crafts. In addition, one student from each region was presented with a $1,000 Boston Globe scholarship for the best portfolio of work.

Approximately 5,500 pieces of artwork were submitted in this year's competition, and a total of 511 Gold Keys and 389 Honorable Mentions were awarded. The Gold Key winners will be entered in the Massachusetts statewide competition, and their work will be exhibited at Boston's City Place in the State Transportation Building, 10 Park Plaza from February 6 - March 3. From the Gold Key winners, 200 are presented with Blue Ribbons, making them eligible for participation in the National Scholastic Art Awards Competition sponsored by Scholastic, Inc. in New York City this summer.

SUPPORT GROUPS ESTABLISHED

With the increase in interest by students for training in non-traditional careers, Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School has established support groups to assist these students in their goals.

Young women at Old Colony are now involved in areas of study which were at one time considered "male occupations". Students are now enrolled in Carpentry, Electricity, Machine Shop, Electronics, Drafting, and the Automotive Program. Support groups have been established to assist these young people in meeting the challenges which sometimes exist in selecting a non-traditional career.

The support groups are led by Mrs. Georgene Drewniak, non-traditional outreach coordinator at Old Colony. Mrs. Drewniak was hired by the school through a federal grant, without cost to the school district.

The support groups meet periodically to discuss non-traditional issues as they relate to work, school and college. Outside speakers on appropriate issues are included in the program.

Through these meetings, students are helped with career planning and changing roles by learning about their interests and abilities, and the wide range of choices available to them. They also share activities and experience with others who have similar concerns and interests.

In addition to the support groups, Mrs.

CAREER CHOICES

Seventh grade students at Old Rochester Regional Junior High School heard a presentation on Career Choices by Georgene Drewniak, Outreach Recruiter at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School recently. Included was a video called "You Can Do It", which answers concerns about the importance of technology education to college-bound students and students who will enter vocational training or begin careers immediately after high school. Patricia Franks, a senior in the Electronics Program at Old Colony, displayed a radio which she made and explained how the program provides students with basic electronics to computer technology.

The purpose of the program it to expose seventh grade students to the various occupations that exist in the world of work.

OLD COLONY VICA WINNERS

Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School recently completed its VICA competition of 1989. VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, provides opportunities for vocational-technical students throughout the United States to compare their skills in all trade areas.

Old Colony students who placed first, second or third are eligible to compete in the District competition scheduled to be held on March 2nd in Framingham. Old Colony students will be competing in Automotive Machining, Automotive Service Technology, Baking, Carpentry, Cosmetology, Culinary Arts, Electronics, Drafting, Elec-
